Longshoremen Back On The Docks; City Truckmen Settle Wage Dispute

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—(P)—Snow and rain today took up where striking longshoremen left off, hampering waterfront operations in some east coast ports.

But in New York, where docks resounded to familiar longshoremen activity yesterday as 2,200 men reported for Sunday work, rain had little effect on operations.

Joseph P. Ryan, president of the AFL International Longshoremen's Association, who had predicted "peace along the waterfront for a long time to come," said longshoremen "are working wherever work is available."

Resumption of normal activities was delayed in Philadelphia by rain and bad weather seriously hampered operations in Baltimore. The weather was interfering with longshoremen in Boston who were unloading cargo which would be damaged by exposure.

Strike Ended Saturday

The 18-day old strike ended Saturday after union ratification of a new contract.

There were new prospects of peace on the strike-bound Pacific coast also.

In the four major Pacific coast ports, weekend votes by CIO longshoremen ratified an employer-approved contract to end the 89-day-old maritime strike. CIO longshoremen's locals in the San Francisco, Seattle, Portland and Los Angeles areas approved the new pact and smaller locals were expected to follow suit.

As the shipping blockade was lifted along a 700-mile stretch of the Atlantic coast, the picture in the hard-hit port of New York was made even brighter by settlement of a week long strike of 2,000 of the city's truckmen in a pay dispute.

Voted to Accept Formula

The Atlantic coast longshoremen's strike, which had paralyzed shipping and slowed down many dependent industries, came to an end when the ILA dockers voted nine-to-one on Saturday to accept a peace formula.

The men won several benefits, including a 13-cent increase in the day-shift straight time pay to $1.88 an hour and an increase of 19½ cents in the night and weekend overtime rate to $2.82 an hour. The ILA's latest demand had been for increases of 25 and 37½ cents.

The settlement terms had clear sailing through ILA locals in Manhattan, Baltimore, Philadelphia, Boston, Virginia and other ports. But four locals in Brooklyn and one in Jersey City, N. J., voted to reject them.

Yesterday, however, a spokesman for a rank-and-file group in Brooklyn said its steering committee had decided to advise the men to return to work immediately. ILA leaders had called the Brooklyn opposition a Communist led movement.

Coming to States

Madame Chiang Kai-shek, wife of the Chinese president, who is enroute to the United States in a U. S. naval transport plane made available to her "at her request." Government officials have made it plain her visit, expected to set off a new drive for U. S. to underwrite China's war, is unofficial.

Setting Stage For a New Labor Policy

Chief Item is Repeal of The Taft-Hartley Law

By Harold W. Ward
WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—(P)—President Truman and his labor lieutenants begin this week to shape the labor policy of his new administration.

Chief item, because of the Truman campaign pledges, is repeal of the Taft-Hartley act and writing a new labor law.

Setting the stage for that today, a team of labor department attorneys was ready with a report to Mr. Truman on what should go into his "State of the Union" message to the new congress in January.

The lawyers, skilled at industrial relations and drafting of laws, were selected by Secretary of Labor Maurice Tobin to draw up the recommendations.

They will propose that Mr. Truman appeal to the new Democratic controlled house and senate to junk the Taft-Hartley act and substitute a compromise which would merge some features of the 1947 law and the Wagner act of 1935.

Suggest Compromise Bill

The labor department advisers also will suggest that the president offer a specific compromise bill to congress to accompany the Taft-Hartley repeal measure.

This may not be popular with the AFL and CIO, whose conventions demanded outright repeal of the Taft-Hartley act and restoration of the Wagner act. Both labor groups showed they were willing to proceed with "reasonable" changes after the Wagner act is re-enacted but they want that as the starting point.

The lawyers plan in two or three weeks to follow up today's general outline with a rough draft of the proposed legislation.

Topics to be Discussed

The administration meanwhile pushed the development of an overall labor policy it would like to see state governments and state legislatures follow.

The annual conference on state labor legislation start three-day sessions here Tuesday, with Secretary Tobin opening the conference.

Among the topics to be considered are wage and hour relations, child labor, state labor statistics, safety and health in factories, workmen's compensation, industrial relations laws, and the relationship between the states and the international labor organization.

Murder Trial Starts Today

COLUMBIA, Mo., Nov. 29.—(P)—Jack Warren Babcock and William Wiley, Kansas Citizens charged with the tavern slaying last Dec. 7 of Roy Eubanks in Moberly, faced first degree murder charges in the Boone county circuit court here today. Their trial was sent here on a change of venue.

Selection of a jury from a panel of 40 members was in order this morning prior to the presentation of testimony.

Three other men are also under arrest for the murder, including Herman Alva Robinson and Arthur Schofield, in jail at Huntsville, Mo., and Alfred Lee Bradley, in jail at Macon, Mo.

Sentenced For Transporting Marijuana Cigarettes

JONESBORO, Ark., Nov. 29.—(P)—Two 19-year-old Houston, Tex., Latin Americans were sentenced to a year and a day in federal prison today for transporting marijuana cigarettes from Houston to Osceola, Ark.

The boys Frank Garcia and Nelchur S. Roderiguez, pleaded guilty before Federal Judge T. C. Trimble here. They were arrested at Osceola by narcotics agents several weeks ago.

Not Enthused Over Visit of Mrs. Chiang

Officials Have Little Sympathy With Her Mission

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—(P)—The State Department announced today Mme. Chiang Kai-shek will be received as a distinguished guest upon her arrival from China.

President Truman's former personal plane—The Sacred Cow—is being dispatched to bring her from San Francisco to Washington. She is due to arrive here at 10:00 a. m. (EST) Wednesday.

The Generalissimo's wife has been invited to be the house guest of Secretary of State and Mrs. Marshall. She has indicated she will accept. Marshall's home is at nearby Leesburg, Va.

By John M. Hightower
WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—(P)—Madame Chiang Kai-shek's arrival here this week is expected to touch off a fresh drive to get the United States to underwrite China's war against its Communist foe.

Authoritative informants said today that as the Chinese president's wife she will be shown "every courtesy" but they made clear privately they have little sympathy with Madame Chiang's unofficial mission.

This attitude has been openly shown in the hands-off policy the state department has tried to follow as far as possible in dealing with her trip. In announcing Saturday night that she would travel here in a U. S. naval transport plane the department emphasized that it was made available "at her request." There was no expression of welcome and no official word on arrangements which might be made to expedite her mission after the scheduled arrival Wednesday.

Causes a Dilemma

The fact is, Madame Chiang's trip dramatized a dilemma in which Secretary of State Marshall and President Truman presently find themselves in connection with the Chinese crisis.

On the one hand, according to responsible informants, they wish to avoid any word or action which might embarrass the Chiang government in its struggle with the Communists. And they are hopeful some way may be found by which the United States can help to prevent a Communist conquest of all China.

On the other hand, the administration leaders appear to have lost all confidence in Chiang's ability to reorganize his military and political strength so as to halt the Communist tide and eventually reverse it.

Impossible to Underwrite

Feeling thus, they apparently consider it impossible for the United States to underwrite Chiang's war with an all-out aid program which would involve an estimated expenditure of several billions of dollars over the next few years.

However, that if the United States became deeply involved in the Orient struggle it might eventually be confronted with a decision on whether to send American troops to fight there.

While Madame Chiang's approach to the problem remains to be fully disclosed, most experts here believe she will build her case for American aid primarily on two points:

1. That the Chinese national government is waging not merely a civil war against rebellious elements of its own people but also carrying on a greater struggle against Communism in behalf of the United States and all other anti-Communist countries.

2. That the United States has an obligation, as well as an on-again, off-again tie to turn the tide for Chiang by supplying the help he has requested.

The basic view of American authorities at the moment is that Chiang is responsible for his own failures in the civil war. Their contention is that his defeats have not been due to a lack of American equipment or even American advice but resulted rather from his failure to liberalize his government and provide a confidence inspiring leadership for his people.

Tobacco Crop on Sale

WESTON, Mo., Nov. 29.—(P)—One of the best Kansas-Missouri tobacco crops in history goes on sale here today at the Missouri district warehouse.

Approximately 900,000 pounds of tobacco, grown in Kansas and the northwest counties of Missouri, will be auctioned to tobacco buyers. The auction will continue daily, alternating between the Missouri district warehouse and the Hull brothers warehouse.

Top quality leaf is expected to sell at about 66 cents a pound.

Governor to Speak in Lincoln

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Nov. 29.—(P)—Gov. Phil M. Donnelly said today he has accepted an invitation to speak at a luncheon in Lincoln, Neb., Dec. 9.

The occasion, he told his news conference, is a meal being given members of the Missouri Basin Inter-Agency committee by Lincoln civic clubs.

The Basin committee is holding its final 1948 meeting in the Nebraska capital today. Donnelly, retiring governor of Missouri, was asked to make the talk by Nebraska's Gov. Val Peterson.

Presentation of State's Gift To Battleship on Dec. 4

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 29.—(P)—Missouri's gift to the "Mighty Mo.," a $10,000 set of silver, will be presented on board the navy's biggest active battleship Dec. 4.

Gov. Phil M. Donnelly said today he would present the 281-piece silver service in the navy yard at Norfolk, Va., with President Truman and officers of the USS Missouri on deck.

The service, costing $9,976.50, was produced by a Massachusetts firm of silversmiths and purchased by Missouri through a Kansas City company (Goldman Jewelry Store). It included service for 18 persons, plus such items as coffee services, candelabra and an urn.

It has been on display in Kansas City the last two days but is being brought here by the state highway patrol today. It will be exhibited in the Missouri capitol tomorrow Wednesday and possibly Thursday, Donnelly said.

Tonight the expensive set will be put in state treasurer Richard R. Nacy's vault. Donnelly said Nacy and Federal Judge John Caskie Collet probably would go to Norfolk, too, to be present at the ceremony. They were instrumental in arranging the purchase.

The governor told his news conference he received a letter from President Truman accepting his invitation to be present Dec. 4.

Donnelly said the navy probably will send a plane here early in December to pick up the silver. He added he probably would go by train although Nacy and Judge Collet might fly to Norfolk with the silver.

Ran Race Against Fire

SEARCY, Ark., Nov. 29.—(P)—Two-year-old Paul Gentry, Jr., is alive today only because his young mother won a race against fire.

The youngster was carried from his parents' burning apartment near here yesterday, a few minutes before his eight-month-old sister was burned to death in the blaze.

Weather Aids Crews Restore Power Service

CHICAGO, Nov. 29.—(P)—Flood waters rolled over rooftops in parts of the south today and hundreds were forced to flee their homes in Georgia, Tennessee and Alabama.

Widespread rain drenched a huge triangle in the eastern part of the nation. It stretched from the lower lakes region to the upper Ohio Valley and from Massachusetts, and from Massachusetts to Florida. The rain turned to snow in New York state and Pennsylvania.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 29.—(P)—Warmer temperatures today aided line crews in restoring communications and power service to storm-swept Oklahoma and Kansas areas.

A snow and sleet storm Saturday night in South Central Kansas and Northwest and Western Oklahoma slowed transportation and snapped communications and power lines.

Snowfall ranged up to five inches. Practically all roads in both states were open again to traffic last night, however.

The sleet broke lines and cut service to 43 Oklahoma communities, the Oklahoma Gas and Electric Co. reported. It expected to restore service today.

Telephone Company Hard Hit

Southwestern Bell Telephone reported it will take two or three days to restore its service to normal in parts of Oklahoma and Kansas.

Southwestern Bell estimated the damage to telephone equipment in South-Central Kansas at $143,000. The major portion of the damage was in the Wichita, Hutchinson and Winfield areas.

The company said 42 Kansas communities were without long distance connections today.

CHICAGO, Nov. 29.—(P)—The elements hit the nation in various forms yesterday. Floods and high winds struck the south. Rain and snow plagued many areas.

At least five persons were killed in automobile accidents attributed to the weather. Another was missing.

Rain-swollen rivers left their banks in three southern states—Georgia, Alabama and Tennessee. Hundreds of persons were forced to flee their homes. Property and crop damage was estimated in hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Four Negroes were injured in a windstorm which hit Fort Davis, near Tuskegee, Ala. A brief snow storm struck parts of Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas and then moved southward, with the snow changed to rain or slush and strong winds diminishing.

Three died in Georgia and Alabama highway accidents, and another person was missing. Two were killed on a slippery highway in Pennsylvania.

Truman Gets Preview of Plans For Celebrating Inauguration

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—(P)—President Truman got a preview today of plans for the celebration of his inauguration Jan. 20. He was described as "well pleased."

A District of Columbia inaugural committee headed by Melvin Hildreth called at the White House to outline the plans.

Hildreth estimated that 750,000 persons will be on hand for the four-day festivities beginning January 19.

He said Mr. Truman had urged that costs of the celebration be kept as low as possible and that it be a "Democratic inauguration."

Hildreth said with a smile that the President was using the word Democratic with a small "d."

The committee showed Mr. Truman an architect's sketch of a blocklong reviewing stand to be erected in front of the White House. From it, the President and his official family, together with hundreds of other guests, will watch an inauguration parade.

The reviewing stand, in the modern style of architecture, was termed by the President as "simple, beautiful and dignified," Hildreth said.

Hildreth estimated it would take from one to five hours for the inaugural parade to pass in review before the White House.

Hildreth's committee has charge of all the inauguration festivities except the inaugural ceremony itself at the capitol. That will be handled by a congressional committee.

Senator Warns He Hopes to Curb Profits

With Higher Taxes, Federal Price And Ration Controls

By Edwin B. Haakinson
WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—(P)—Senator O'Mahoney (D-WYO) served notice on a "few giant corporations" today he aims to put double check-reins on their profits—higher taxes and federal price and ration controls.

"I don't want to re-enact OPA," he told reporters, "but I do want to control the present regimentation of prices and rationing products by concentrated private interests."

O'Mahoney did not single out any corporation by name, but he said those dealing in basic commodities, such as steel, "are in a position to fix their own prices and distribution." In this way, he said, most items needed by the average family are subject to a control rationing system.

Will Have Vantage Position

O'Mahoney is due to become chairman of the senate-house economic committee, a strategic congressional policy post where he can give powerful support to administration proposals.

From that vantage point retiring Chairman Taft (R-OHIO) directed the Republican fight in the 80th congress against President Truman's requests for mandatory anti-inflation powers.

O'Mahoney who has steadily backed Mr. Truman's plea for an excess profits tax on corporations said he will introduce such a measure after the Democrats take over Congress January 3. He said he plans to propose a levy about one-half the wartime rate.

Peace Most Important

"Winning of the peace is the biggest job this government has to do," he said. "The Government can't do it unless it has ample revenues. With the world in its present state of turmoil and the peace treaties not yet written, it is idle to talk in a glib manner assuming we are at peace."

To protect the low income buyer, O'Mahoney wants to impose a "cooling off period" of 60 to 90 days before prices of basic commodities could be raised. Notice of any proposed increase then could give to the Federal Trade Commission and Commerce department and Justice department. The FTC then would conduct public

VATICAN CITY, Nov. 29.—(P)—The Vatican was told today a Christmas truce is being sought by Jews and Arabs to permit the annual procession from Jerusalem to Bethlehem.

Greek and Armenian churchmen of the Latin rite in Jerusalem have asked the United Nations Commission to use its good offices to obtain an absolute cease fire to assure "full security" over the holidays.

Military Costs Will be Kept Within Limit

Unless Grave New Threats Develop In Foreign Lands

By Sterling F. Green

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—(P)—Unless grave new threats develop overseas, administration officials appear resolved to hold military spending to the $15,000,000,000 limit set by President Truman.

Otherwise, they have been warned, the nation may be plunged into a great inflationary whirlpool.

Two top civilian advisors to the President, it was learned today, have carried this campaign against high defense costs right into military headquarters at the Pentagon. Their talks were delivered to a seminar of leading citizens early this month, but were not then publicly reported.

Chairman Edwin G. Nourse of the President's council of economic advisors warned that if the military budget rises to "a level of 18 or 20 billions, there are bound to be important repercussions on the economy."

Would Mean Inflation

Mr. Truman said last month that the armed forces had requested $23,000,000,000 for the 1950 fiscal year starting July 1.

Nourse told the Pentagon group: "If we project a substantially larger scale of military spending for rearming ourselves and perhaps Western Europe and some other countries, it is clear that new forces of inflation would be unleashed."

Nourse said this development likely would require:

1. Price control "of quite extensive scope."
2. Either higher taxes or inflationary deficit spending by the government.
3. Allocations and other type controls over scarce materials.

4. Manpower controls to meet shortages in the needed areas where more labor already is needed.

Budget Director Interested

Budget Director James E. Webb, it was learned, also stressed some of the same points to the Pentagon group, with emphasis on possible disruption of sound government fiscal policy.

In this Pentagon talk, said Nourse, "those who are entrusted with our foreign relations must be wise as serpents and harmless as doves so that the need for military effort shall be held or reduced to the lowest possible point."

He urged the men "entrusted with the military effort" to "direct every dollar to the point of greatest effectiveness, and forego every outlay based on traditional practice, corps, prides, or dispensable ceremony."

Two key members of the new Democratic controlled congress have put themselves on record in favor of holding military costs to the minimum required for national defense foreign policy commitments.

To be Questioned Regarding Holdup

CARTHAGE, Mo., Nov. 29.—(P)—Robert Leeper, 21, Huntington, Pa., and Joseph Mathechen, Pittsburgh, will be returned to Pittsburgh to be questioned in a tavern holdup slaying.

Ted Botula, special investigator for the district attorney's office in Allegheny county, Pa., said the two men, arrested here on a St. Louis car theft charge last week, will be returned by plane. He said the departure time is uncertain.

Botula said Leeper had admitted participating in the holdup. The two were questioned about other holdups in the Pittsburgh area.

Slain in the tavern holdup last Oct. 23 was Donald Schreckengost, 30.

First Two Called From Pettis County

Gordon E. Norton, R. F. D. 3, Sedalia, and Marshall Eugene Higbee, Springfield, R. F. D. 1, will be the first two Pettis County men to report for induction under the new Selective Service program.

The two young men will leave at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning for Kansas City.

It is understood they will take a physical examination in Kansas City after which they will be inducted into the service and from there will be sent to some training camp, possibly Camp Chaffee, Ark.

Miss Grace Scott, secretary of the board, reported the two are the first to be called from Pettis County through her office.

Four-Year-Old Shares Wealth

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—(P)—Ronnie Sue Moskowitz, an angelic-looking four-year-old with big brown eyes has her own share-the-wealth plan.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Moskowitz, are the victims. A couple of months ago, Mama caught the little blonde peeling $5 bills from Daddy's bankroll and tossing them out a window of their Brooklyn apartment.

Grateful passersby pocketed eight of them before Mama put an economy program into effect.

Last Saturday Ronnie threw two diamond rings, valued at $1,500, into the garbage because "Mama wasn't wearing them."

To make matters worse, the maid dumped the garbage into the incinerator.

Daddy, proprietor of several stores, singed his hands in an unsuccessful attempt to fish the rings out of the incinerator.

Yesterday, two policemen poked around in the ashes and recovered the rings.

Daddy said he would take them to a jeweler to learn the amount of damage.

LOUISBURG, Kas., Nov. 29.—(P)—Four members of a family died of asphyxiation in their bedroom here last night, Dr. William Brown, Miami county coroner, reported.

An enjoyable meeting was held in Windsor last night, when a Windsor Garden Club was organized, consisting of a group of prominent young matrons who are deeply interested in beautifying their homes and gardens. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Ralph Allen. Mrs. Frank S. Leach and Mrs. Herbert Seifert of Sedalia, were the guests. Mrs. Leach, Regional Director, organized the club with 24 members.

Mrs. Seifert, who is state chairman of the Blue Star Memorial Highway Committee, is a lifelong friend of the newly elected President, Mrs. L. I. Hoback, they having been college classmates. Mrs. Seifert spoke to the club on this nation-wide project sponsored by the Garden Clubs of America and which will extend from border to border and coast to coast. The project will be in memory of the men and women who served in the armed forces during World War II. She told of the plans that are completed for a Memorial Highway park near Sedalia, which will be a credit to Pettis county when it is completed on Highway 50 west of Sedalia. Mrs. Seifert showed the women many pictures of the plans for these rest parks all along the highways of the country.

To Erect Markers
Attractive markers will designate the parks, which will have out-door ovens, tables, and other conveniences that will attract the tourists to tarry and rest a while and eat their food along the way. This will be a living memorial to the boys who fought in World War II.

Mrs. Leach installed the new officers. Nine candles were lighted for each of the officers, the first group being for the president and first and second vice presidents. They form the executive branch and their candles were red, typifying power and beauty and the fact that this was a "Red Letter Day." The next candles were for the recording and corresponding secretaries and the treasurer, their candles being white to represent the clerical duties of the officers. The third group was the historian, parliamentarian and auditor, and their color was blue, representing the judiciary and the attributes of constancy, fidelity, loyalty and dependability. The red, white and blue reminded the guests that patriotism to God, home and country was essential to all good citizenship.

Refreshments were served.

Stover Club Formed

The Stover club was organized the week before by Mrs. Leach, assisted by some of the officers of the Smithton club, as follows: Miss Laura Kruse, Mrs. H. L. Hill and Mrs. Schlottzauer. This club is composed of both men and women, two of the officers being men who are interested in horticulture. R. J. Blackman, one of the members, makes a specialty of dahlias and has over 200 varieties, from huge ones as large as dinner plates to tiny button dahlias.

The club members took flowers to decorate the Community house where the meeting was held. The Smithton ladies told the new club about their interesting work in their community and how they had featured the Junior Department. Flower arrangements were discussed and demonstrations of the practical art of corsage making was shown.

At the close of this evening meeting, a delicious supper was served to the guests and members.

Milligan of New York City, national commander, were both designed by Adrian of Hollywood. The beret and cap worn with them are creations of the well-known millinery designer, Lily Dache.

Burris-Mitchell Happy Coach And Co-Captains Outstanding Players Big 7

By Skipper Patrick

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 29—(AP)—Paul (Buddy) Burris and Jack Mitchell were named today as the Big Seven conference's most outstanding players this season.

The coaches were unanimous on Burris, a 220-pound senior guard from Muskogee, Okla. He had been recognized as a potential great early in 1942 when he was a freshman member of Tulsa's 1943 Sugar Bowl team.

Mitchell got all the coaches votes except one and missed only four of eighteen writer's ballots. Those went to Richard (Dick) Gilman who passed Kansas to six of their seven victories before the Jayhawks ran up against Oklahoma and Missouri.

Mitchell, 180-pound senior, who played prep ball at Arkansas City, Kas., but now lives in Ponca City, Okla., was one of the nation's top punt returners the past two seasons. He was hailed as one of the smartest quarterbacks of the year.

The Mitchell strategy was good for Oklahoma's ninth victory of the season in the Sooners 19-15 success over Oklahoma A&M two days ago. He gave Oklahoma A. & M. an intentional safety in the closing minutes of the game to protect the Sooner lead, just as he did in a 21-18 victory over TCU several weeks ago.

Burris and Mitchell will have an opportunity to show their greatness against North Carolina university in the coming Sugar bowl game.

Mitchell wound up the season with a touchdown against Oklahoma A&M that gave him a tie with teammate George Thomas for the individual conference scoring lead. Each has 10 touchdowns for 60 points.

Things were on the quiet side at other Big Seven points. Missouri, second to Oklahoma in the final standings, has a "Gator" bowl game with Clemson on New Year's day, but won't start getting ready for it until Thursday.

Nebraska and Kansas State completed their campaigns last Saturday, each in a loss. St. Louis university beat Kansas State 21-7. Nebraska was on the short end of a 28-12 score with Oregon State.

Valley Vikings Back To The Cigar Bowl

TAMPA, Fla., Nov. 29—(AP)—Undeclared Missouri Valley college winner of the 1948 Cigar bowl game, will be back in Tampa for the bowl's 1949 contest.

Announcement of the selection of the Vikings from Marshall, Mo., and their acceptance was made yesterday.

Their opponent for the New Year's night clash probably will be named tomorrow. The selection committee is meeting today to try to make a choice among three remaining—Bowling in

The Show-Me Bowl trophy won by Smith-Cotton high school Tigers Friday night when they defeated Raytown high school 20 to 0, is being presented to Captain Bob Shultz and Captain Billy Sid Kennon by President Lyman Sprinkle, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Columbia, sponsors of the bowl game. The football used in the game was also presented to the captains. Left to right are Coach Dow, Captain Shultz, Captain Kennon and President Sprinkle.

Sports Roundup

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.
NEW YORK, Nov. 29—(AP)—A short time ago, Norm Daniels, coach of the unbeaten Wesleyan school couldn't accept a bowl bid because that would mean cancelling the winter sports program.

In a small college the athletes have to double up. As for the big timers, before the football players have had a chance to knock the mud off their cleats, here comes the basketball season in full swing.

This week, while the Army-Navy game still is a bit more than just a memory, the Garden court season starts with NYU-Baylor and St. John's-Tennessee Thursday. . . . Texas and Rice play a two-night double header stand at Louisiana State and Tulane Friday and Saturday and the same thing will be going on all over the country. . . . P. S. The "winter" racing season opens at Tropical park Wednesday. When is a fan or a sports writer supposed to get some rest?

"A Bennie For Your Thoughts"
When Bennie Osterbaan stepped into Fritz Crisler's shoes as Michigan coach, he might have been forgiven if he had trembled to think of the magnitude of the job he was taking over. . . . But when an interviewer asked if he was "scared," Bennie replied with this tale of his first season of college ball:

Michigan was playing Illinois. Zahl run wild against the Wolverines the year before. Feeling the need of some "stabilization" during the pre-game warmups, Osterbaan drifted over to where another famous Bennie—Friedman—was practicing place kicks. "I'm scared," confided Osterbaan. "So am I." Friedman replied as he calmly booted one between the uprights. "But we're not beaten yet." It's a matter of record that Michigan wasn't beaten that day and in telling the tale the Michigan coach adds: "That was the first and last time I've ever really been scared."

Waltz into Darkness

BY WILLIAM IRISH

JULIA'S STORY: "Julia" tells Durand her name is really Bonny Castle. She traveled the river boats as partner of a crooked gambler. "And what of Julia?" he asks. "I've come to that now," she says.

XXVII
SHE drew a deep breath. "We used to go down about once a month, never more often. It wouldn't have been prudent. Stop a while, and then go up again. We left St. Louis the 18th of May the last time, on the CITY OF NEW ORLEANS."

"As she did." "The first night out something went wrong. My partner met his match at last. The game kept on for half the night, and he lost steadily. I couldn't signal because I couldn't see the other man's cards. He seemed to play from memory, keeping them turned inward to one another face to face. At last my partner had nothing left to play with."

"But long before that, hours earlier, the other man had already asked me to leave the two of them to themselves. Pointedly, but in such a polite way that there was nothing I could do but obey. 'I went out on deck and stood looking over the rail. Presently a woman, unaccompanied like myself, stopped beside me and struck up a conversation.'

"She was a fool. Within the space of minutes she was telling me all her business, unsolicited. Who she was, where she was bound, what her purpose in going there was."

"I tried to shake her off at first, but without succeeding. She attached herself to me, followed me around. It was as though she were starving for a confidante. She gave me your name, and, stopping by a lighted doorway, insisted on taking out and showing me the picture you had sent her."

"You went?" "I went. What could I do? I went to her door and I knocked, and when she called out, startled, to ask who it was, I remember calling to the attention of the justice department Slaughter's failure to register. In the end he was indicted."

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—Democratic senator-elect Bob Kerr of Oklahoma couldn't resist a little good natured ribbing when he breezed into town the other day for his first meeting with the president since election.

"You Democrats did a great job in Missouri," said the hefty, six-foot-two Oklahoman. "Yes, that big victory vote you turned out was really inspiring. Of course, it wasn't quite as big as the victory margin we polled in Oklahoma."

"Yes, I know all about it," chuckled Truman. "But did you notice the congressional gains we made in Missouri? We knocked off eight Republican congressmen in the House of Representatives. The only one Republican left in the Missouri house delegation."

"HMMM," mused Kerr. "You say that Missouri still has one Republican congressman? Very unfortunate. In Oklahoma we made a clean sweep, electing all Democrats to the House. Maybe we could give you Missourians some pointers."

"Just give us a little time," countered Truman, with a grin. "We're working on it."

Note — Out of 13 Missouri House members, the only Republican who survived the election was Dewey Short. Democrats swept all eight House seats in Oklahoma, including two formerly held by Republicans, plus the senate seat of Republican Ed Moore, whom Kerr succeeds.

Ex-Congressman Roger Slaughter of Kansas City, now indicted for failing to register as a lobbyist, has concocted a legal toe-stubber, which he will take to the court of appeals.

answering in honeyed tones to reassure her. "It's your new little friend, Miss Charlotte."

"You had that name upon the boat?" "For that voyage. She opened at once, so great was her trust in me. I delivered my invitation. I complained of a headache and said I thought the fresh air might cure it. I asked if she would walk with me on deck for a while."

"I REMEMBER I was strangely uneasy, as to what his intentions might be—oh, I knew he boded her no good, but I didn't dare allow myself to believe he meant her any actual bodily harm; some intricate blackmailing scheme, at most, I thought, to be brought to bear on her later, once she was married to you—and even as I spoke, I kept hoping she would refuse me, and I could give him that for an excuse. But she seemed to have become inordinately fond of me. Before I could ask her twice she had already accepted, her face all alight with pleasure at my seeking her out."

His interest had been trapped in spite of himself. "And then?" "And then?" he pressed her. "We walked the full length of the deck three times, in harmonious intimacy, as women will together." She stopped for a moment and drew a breath, as if again feeling the tension of that night, that promenade upon the lonely, darkened deck.

"Nothing happened. He did not accost us. At last I had no further excuse to keep her out there with me. She asked me how my headache was, and I said it was gone. 'I took her back to her door. She turned to me a moment and said, 'I'm so glad we've met. Charlotte. I've never really had a woman friend of my very own. You must come and see me and my—' and then she faltered prettily—'my new husband, visit with us, as soon as we're settled. I shall want new friends badly in my new life.' And then she opened her door and went in. Unharmed, untouched, I even heard her bolt it fast after her on the inside."

"And that was the last I ever saw of her."

The Daily Washington Merry-Co-Round

by Drew Pearson

Pearson and Congressmen look as if Drew Pearson could carve another notch in his scalping knife when it comes to taking the hair and hide off congressmen. Close on the heels of the indictment of Congressman J. Parnell Thomas of New Jersey—as a result of Pearson's exposure, ex-congressman Roger Slaughter of Kansas City has been indicted for failure to register as a lobbyist.

It was Pearson who told how Slaughter put the provision in the farm bill prohibiting the government from renting more grain elevator space, which in turn prevented the government from giving many farmers parity prices on grain. Pearson kept harping on this, and also calling to the attention of the justice department Slaughter's failure to register. In the end he was indicted."
